On reviewing the report of our recent conference, I am again reminded of how much we are in debt to you and your colleagues for your time, attention, and searching but constructive criticism.

We would welcome any additional thoughts or recommendations you may have after rereading the enclosed final conference notes.

While it is difficult to assess accurately the actual progress resulting from conference recommendations, you may find it somewhat satisfying to know that we already have had some unforeseen dividends from circulation of the report within the Agency.

Again, may I extend my personal appreciation of your continuing assistance on our behalf.

Sincerely,

/s/
Robert Amory, Jr.
Assistant Director
